End of Course Assessment

Dates

Certifier

1. Why is it important to develop rapport with families before gathering information from them?

2. Why is family engagement important in your program?

3. A new family child care provider comments to you, "Families are overly involved in my program. They do not have the education or experience that I have." What do you say to her?

4.	You and a few other family child care providers meet up monthly to share ideas. You have been asked to briefly present four ideas to help new families feel welcome. What four ideas will you share?
5.	Discuss the impact cultural differences can have on children's lives.
6.	Name two things you can do in your program to help support a family experiencing challenges.
7.	Name three ways you can support children's families before, during, or after deployment.

8.	List two examples of how you can honor family diversity in your program.
9.	A child in your program has been engaging in challenging behaviors recently. What should you keep in mind when you discuss the issue with the family?
10.	Describe three ways you can share resources with the families of children in your program.
11.	Name the five protective factors.

12.	Describe two family-centered practice beliefs and how those beliefs can be implemented as actions in your program.
13.	When you communicate with families during a formal conference, what are three important things to remember?