Reimbursement for Re-licensure/Recertification:

Multiple PCSes throughout Airmen's careers can make it difficult for their spouses to establish and maintain employment and careers. While some states authorize reciprocity for certain types of occupational licenses, not all states do; this requires the spouse to update a license or certification according to the new state's requirements.

When an Airman moves from a duty station in one state to another state, if his/her spouse's qualifying occupational state license has to be updated, the Air Force will reimburse the cost of relicensing fees up to $1000.
