Become a Family Child Care Provider!

Joint Base MDL

DEPARTMENT OF THE AIR FORCE

FAMILY CHILD CARE

The Basic Requirements To Become An FCC Provider:

- Be 18 years of age or older
- Speak, read and write English
- Attend 36 hours of orientation
- Proof of immunizations
- Live in the military community or off base affiliated
- Have a high school diploma
- Certified in Pediatric CPR/FA

Getting Started

If you meet these basic requirements, then you can begin your career as an FCC Provider. The FCC office will guide you through the licensing process and assist you with establishing your business. All training requirements mandated by Air Force Instruction 34-144 for FCC Providers will be provided prior to the home being certified/licensed. Training will include child abuse identification and reporting, positive guidance and discipline techniques, food handlers, medication administration, CPR and first aid, FCC business administration, basic child development and learning environments, and safety, health and fire regulations. In addition, you will complete 15 specialized modules that will educate you on everything from home safety and health to setting up your environment during the first 18 months of license.

Off base providers must be licensed by the state of New Jersey as well as Joint Base McGuire Dix Lakehurst.

Being an FCC Provider

is more than being a “babysitter”. You are a professionally trained child/youth caregiver in a continuously growing, high demand career field. As a business owner, you will experience the challenges and rewards of being self-employed while receiving support and guidance from the FCC office and the 87th Mission Support Group.
