JEFFREY MEYERS
Lodging Manager

Welcome Valued Guest! We have provided you with a few complimentary items to get you through your first night's stay. Feel free to ask any Lodging team member if you need any of these items replenished. If you forgot to pack any other toiletry item, please come see us at the front desk. We should have what you need available for purchase.

The Air Force Inns Promise

“Our goal is to provide you a clean, comfortable room to guarantee a good night's rest and pleasant stay. If any part of your stay with us is not satisfactory, please provide the lodging manager or front desk staff an opportunity to ‘make it right’.”

IP Addresses: This service only supports the use of dynamically assigned IP Addresses. Your computer must be configured to obtain an IP Address automatically.

When you connect to the cable network, your PC/Mac is automatically issued with a unique IP address by means of DHCP (Dynamic Host Configuration Protocol). The public IP address allocated by DHCP for the cable connection is called the WAN address. If your PC/Mac is connected directly to the cable modem, with no intervening routers, then its IP address will be the WAN address.

- Windows XP: Under Network Connections, highlight Internet Protocol (TCP/IP). Click on Properties, then obtain an IP Address automatically and obtain a DNS server address automatically.
- Windows Vista: When your computer cannot connect to a network and the DHCP client fails to reach the DHCP server, Windows Vista will not show the dynamic IP address but switch to Automatic Private IP Addressing (APIPA) instead. This means that your IP address will be something like 169.254.a.b. If this is the case, you need to disable automatic addressing and restart your computer by doing the following:

Click Start > Run. Type regedit and press OK. Browse to HKEY_LOCAL_MACHINE\SYSTEM\CurrentControlSet\Services\Tcpip\Parameters. Right click this entry and select New Dword. Rename the new entry ArpRetryCount (leave it set to 0 by default). Restart the computer.

You can discover the (LAN) IP address of your PC/Mac as follows:

- Win9x/ME: click Start, Run, enter the command winiipcfg. Use the pull-down item to select the network interface for the cable modem (rather than any PPP dial-up). Look for the line IP Address.
- Windows (any version except Win95): open a command prompt window, type the command ipconfig. Look for the output section related to the network interface for the cable modem:
- Windows XP: Open a command window. Go to Start, Run, and enter "cmd". The Command Prompt should appear. Type ipconfig. This should show the computer IP Address, Subnet Mask and Default Gateway.
